

Birthday Cards

Two of Hearts:

Romantic Courtship

Characteristics: The Two of Hearts possesses the Karmic Soul Twin in the Ace and shares many of that card's traits. It is in the unique family of Semi-Fixed Cards and thus also brings with it a certainty of their direction. They will not listen to anyone else. They have a natural curiosity that leads to terrific mental development and they have great minds. However, as the meaning of the card is lovers, they never stray far from this essence of themselves. Their ideals about love and marriage are high, sometimes too much so. Rather than be alone, they always prefer being with someone. They will wait as long as needed for the correct person to come along; a person who they can give their complete and dedicated love to. Unfortunately, in some cases, these ideals can topple over when they shy away from exactly what they desired so much, if their vision comes crashing ashore in reality. Luckily, those with finances or power are where the Two of Hearts generally ends up and they prefer this kind of company. They must handle financial fears that come up from time to time very carefully so that they do not impact their health and well-being. A positive thought process and fulfillment can result from a study of metaphysics. The psychic abilities that many have can be used for fun or even profit. They will have, as Capricorns, an inclination to be too practical and serious with themselves as well as others. There is often a conflict resulting from the gentle dreams of love that the Two of Hearts has. They have to find a way to strike a balance between wanting this high, spiritual love and the real world around them. Developing the more practical way to love can bring true benefits. There is a somewhat fortunate life path that the Two of Hearts has, especially related to the areas of money and business. Caution, however, is necessary in all of their business deals. Clear financial agreements should be spelled out and discussed to avoid difficulties. They need to exercise care in partnerships. When they mix love and business care is necessary because of a tendency to leave significant expectations unspoken.

Relationships: They absolutely must have, because of their nature, someone in their life. That is probably because it is the card of the love affair. They have to learn to balance their logic with their passion because they tend to have an intellectual approach to love. Learning to express their passion is something they must also be careful of because they are required to go through tests pertaining to the pursuit of personal pleasure, particularly if it is at the expense of others. Rather than having no one in their lives, they will generally choose to have anyone in their life. If however, they have been emotionally hurt or had their dreams damaged, they may possibly deny themselves a love.

Personality Connections: Spade males as friends are also common. Men Two of Hearts often make good friends with Club women. Males of the Diamond suit are often attracted to Two of Hearts women, particularly if they possess money or success. Heart males also make good marriage partners, and they are very attracted to them.

Confrontations: The special family of Four Cards includes the Two of Hearts and they are often referred to as the Semi-Fixed Cards. The entire story, however, of these special relationships among the cards is more significant. The Semi-Fixed Cards are two pairs of cards that are special. They move from one place in the Grand Solar Spread to another place every other year in their lives. The Ace and the Two of Hearts exchange places with each other each year just as the Sevens and Nines do. No other cards do this and that makes them unique. But, how these two pairs of cards are joined to one another is most interesting. The Ace and the Two of Hearts are so similar that it is hard to differentiate their qualities from each other. What is a relevant Life Path for one is also for the other. The other pair of Karmic Twins also have the same characteristics. They are practically soul mates when viewed from this perspective. However, this does not mean anything with regard to marriage and romance.
