Characteristics: These individuals can see the secrets of this world and beyond with their minds. This includes an understanding of the karma they are here for in their lives. Much peace will come into their lives with this understanding. Although sometimes they try to dismiss what they know, they are acutely aware of right and wrong. Because they operate out of the high side of this card and they are quite creative as well as productive, not all Three of Diamonds suffer from these problems. The Three of Diamonds maybe has the hardest life path of all. Because the Six of Diamonds is the Karma card this is especially true of a woman. Particularly, relative to relationships she is in for a lot of difficulty. A constant threat is worrying about their finances. Frequently they must sacrifice for someone younger and often this is one or more of their children. Their later years can be less than they hope for, because of the two

Nines in their Life Path, unless they have worked on their spiritual side. Peace and wisdom come from this. They should pursue a career that gives them freedom in these areas and benefit from variety and travel. Experimenting with ideas and then to settling on the truth is why such individuals are here. Threes have to find constructive releases for their highly active minds because in general they are guilty of worry and indecision. Finding some outlet for their creativity is the best solution and expressing themselves is important. If they are to achieve tranquility in their lives and jump the hurdles and difficulties they will face, they should develop their natural aptitude for metaphysics. Many useful ways can be found to express themselves. Super entertainers and speakers are things they can be, because their minds and their voices are powerful. They can be very effective promoters once they have found some-thing they can believe in. Those who have a Three of Diamonds promoting their business are lucky. Traveling or doing an assortment of tasks is where they get more satisfaction in business.

Relationships: As with the Queen of Diamonds, Multiple marriages often are the case with this card. They are learning to let people go their own way and to heal their fears as the Seven of Diamonds in Venus shows. They come into this life with the disposition to be somewhat uncaring about other people's emotions. Their first Karma Card lets us know that. Other people can be uncertain about their affection because of their carefree nature. The Queen of Diamonds runs in sync with the Three of Diamonds card as being the most difficult in terms of relationships. This card comes into life feeling as though there are endless kingdoms to explore and experience because of their enormous creativity. They realize that they too have big fear of abandonment and disloyalty that has to be dealt with somewhere along the line. This often results in frequent indecision regarding matters of the heart, as well as marriage, and possibly multiple relationships. Generally, most of their happiness in love comes later in their lives, because usually it consumes time. They will elect impermanent relationships if they are unable to deal with their own insecurities. They will learn the importance of being consistent in the areas of romance in this incarnation. Since the romantic forces for relationships will usually sustain themselves well into the last years of their life that can be fine for a Three of Diamonds.

Personality Connections: Club women are very attracted to Three of Diamonds men. Three of Diamond men have an attraction to Spade women. No suit is particularly strong though. Hearts and Spades men are often attractive for Female Three of Diamonds, but they mix well with Clubs too.

Confrontations: The Sevens and Nines are always thought to be the most difficult cards to have in one's Life Path. There are many obstacles in the Life Path of the Three of Diamonds. We notice that the Three of Diamonds has two Sevens and two Nines, so we can understand better what their lives might be like.
