Three of Hearts:

Assortment of Affections

Characteristics: The Three of Hearts symbolize the departure of Man and Woman leaving the Garden of Eden and is the initial card in the Life Spread. The cause for their departure was temptation on many levels. Furthermore, we might think of this card as the stepping out spot into a dualistic world of confusion because it is the first card in the Life Spread. Somewhat like landing on an alien planet, the Three of Hearts experience might be like having to figure everything out from scratch. Three of Hearts, in this respect, are endlessly questioning but mentally prepared to evaluate and analyze what they observe. They are unclear about what is most important to them in life and this results in concern about their own financial lack, whether real or imagined. In this case, their own natural creativity becomes a burden of indecision. They never feel financially secure, partly because they can develop so many ideas of what to do and what they might want to do that they never complete things. This indecisiveness can be the cause of some very challenging relationships in terms of karma. They may meet a person who shares these same qualities but leaves them not knowing whether or not they are loved. Their creativity becomes a great talent that guides them in the direction of their goals after the Three of Hearts has learned the value of foundation and stability. The women do better than most women when working in male-ruled organizations and associations and both genders have good success working with men. Their life or finances is often improved through travel or making changes and they are progressive in their work. They are successful at whatever they work at and they are very hard workers. To be happy they need some change or travel in their jobs. There is artistic and creative potential in the Three of Hearts. Their very souls are expressive. Two of their most important lessons in life are learning to interrupt value-based indecisiveness into creativity in their work or business and overcoming their worry about poverty. Faith is something they are learning to develop in order to understand that the necessary materials will always be there for them when needed.

Relationships: Sexual uncertainty and experimentation sometimes is what the Three of Hearts energy results in. Many Three of Hearts choose to explore in their quest for wisdom, and bisexuality and homosexuality are concepts they may be curious about.

What is most required by the Three of Hearts individual is to spend time with themselves, so that they can learn to become more emotionally self-sufficient and self-reliant. The first Karma Card informs us of that. They can feel less needy and less stressed about finding love from others if they learn to give some of their boundless energy to themselves. At that point, their love life starts being much more fun and enjoyable. That is how they want it to be in any case. Lightheartedness and cheerfulness is their favorite way of being. They have no trouble getting others to love and have a charm and attractiveness. After they find someone the challenge begins. Wit and high intelligence often attract them, but frequently it is to someone who is just as indecisive too. The Three of Hearts can become the most mixed mentally and emotionally of the Threes. All of them demand the freedom to explore various possibilities. They can frequently become unsure or dissatisfied in search of what and whom they love, even if they see the perfect individual standing right in front of them. Emotional uncertainty, on a deeper level, is represented by the Three of Hearts. Asking themselves whether they will be loved is often foremost in their minds. Emotionally challenging experiences in childhood are often the cause of this.

Personality Connections: Three of Hearts females are attractive to them. Spade men see them as very attractive, but a challenge in other ways. Club females are found attractive to Three of Hearts males, as are Diamond women. The Three of Hearts female will have problems with a lot of the Club and Heart males.

Confrontations: Errors associated with youth and learning from the school of hard knocks is something the Three of Hearts will experience. Their creative side is something the Three Birth Cards strongly identify with.
