Five of Diamonds:

Inquirer of Value

Characteristics: There is an internal sensation of not being satisfied in all Five of Diamonds. However, value and acquiring stable lives are what they desire to achieve. It is not easy for them to discover a vocation that gives both these two notions because they are frequently in conflict. Sales is an excellent choice for many. They can achieve great success in this arena because they are able to relate to all kinds of people. Both obstacles and blessings are the possessions of this card. There is a distaste for routine and hatred for any-thing that tries to limit their freedom or push them in any way that is the nature of the Five of Diamonds. They may never settle down for any-thing long enough to make something worthwhile and they have the wanderlust. They are capable, however, of bringing about security in an uncertain life and even discovering a relationship or profession they can stick to. Jobs and relation-ships are the main reasons for restlessness. Their kindness is, unfortunately, costly too and they will probably experience financial loss during their life. They have debts to pay from a previous life that must be paid in this, much the same as the Nine. These people love sharing resources with family and close associates because they are givers. However sometimes they can feel bitter about it because others take advantage of them. Their giving is a lesson as well a gift. They need to do the task without evading responsibility by practicing their knowledge and doing what is necessary. As a portion of their life's work, the strong Neptune influence brings about a desire to assist others. They will then acquire more success and fulfillment in life. This allows them to become the masters of their destiny by aligning them with a higher purpose. Since they are located in the Neptune column, they are naturally spiritual. True value is something they know. Psychic knowledge is even something they are aware of. Their knowledge branches out to the psychic and some have a great aptitude in this area. Many Five of Diamonds have a great aptitude in this area. Putting into practice what they know is where the difficulty comes in. That frequently takes a lot of hard work to eliminate because of the karma they bring to this life. There will be numerous problems if they are lazy.

Relationships: Charm is frequently one of their qualities, however, there can be a sneaky and calculating way about them when it comes to romance. In many cases, they lose awareness of their feelings, as they get more enamored with analysis of the concept of love. Romance is a mind game for them. With romance the Five of Diamonds is restless and fickle. Commitments are frequently avoided. Many have a hard time making a relationship work for very long because of this. They are viewed as some of the best lovers because they are quite romantic, charming and have a sexual aura. A huge challenge for them is the entire notion of marriage and longing for intimacy in love; one that they will surely be faced with often in the course of their life. As a Five, they do not want to return to the limitation that marriage can represent in some cases. Exploration and new journeys are what they are interested in. Those with humor and creativity are the kind of person they are drawn to. If they decide to, they can even be dishonest in this aspect of life. Educational sources such as books, which pertain to love and relationships, always take them up to a higher plane and increased happiness. Books have a big influence on them.

Personality Connections: Someone who does not infringe on their lifestyle is who they want. Men Clubs are whom Five of Diamond women are attracted to and they can also be fascinated with Diamond males. Spade females strongly attract Five of Diamonds men.

Confrontations: Ask them if they want to go travel across the entire country tomorrow and they will be ready to go the minute you call them. This Five is a paradigm of this. Their love of freedom, their desire to maintain security and a mark for themselves in this life cause internal conflicts. Traveling is a favorite and they are the type that might just take off anywhere.
