

Birthday Cards

Six of Hearts:

Problem Solver

Characteristics: Peaceful, harmonious and stable is the nature of this card. It is a card of family love. They strive to maintain stability in relationships and have a keen awareness of the Law of Love. Such stability can make for a life of monotony and boredom or of contentment. How it is handled is the determining factor. They do not like changes and upsets and are a bit fixed. As they organize their desires and motives, it is possible to stay in a relationship longer than necessary. They are able to apply their intelligence to most any areas successfully, even though there are occasional fears about not having enough. They can rise to high levels of spiritual awareness via their actions and are here to settle karma pertaining to love debts as well as to forgive and forget. Injuring others is not something they get away with and they know it. Their lives are meant to be plentiful and as a result giving or sharing their bounty of love with those near them is their purpose. We can see this in the fact that they are the same card as governs Christmas day. Six children, interestingly, is fairly common, or there are six close friends in their circle. Other Heart cards have this situation too. We see the strength of their competitive side come out if a Six feels that they have been the victim of injustice or that someone in their care has been wronged. If provoked in this way, they are capable of being very forceful. Business dealings or sports can be approached with this competitive nature as well. They have a cool demeanor even in heated battles. A special purpose in life, one that involves sharing love with others in a special way, is possible for some Six of Hearts people. Their highest fulfillment and happiness can be in that area. The knowledge or communications areas are where success often lies. Through developing a single area and staying with it, they most often do better. Learning practically anything is one of their abilities and they have an inherited gift of creativity. From financial planners to designers or artists, a lot of them find success. They always have good ideas on how to improve income and can be very business minded.

Relationships: Some Six of Hearts have personal relationships to deal with stemming from a past life as part of the process of understanding the responsibility involved with love. Depending on their exact karma, these can be either positive or negative in nature, but such relationships always seem destined. For this same reason, many believing that somewhere in the world is their special soul mate is a common view of the Six of Hearts. They can have an excellent marriage and their basic love karma is fine. They expect those they marry to live up to their part of the bargain and prefer to be with people they are able to do business with. As long as they have a responsible attitude and hark to the call of the higher love nature in them, they usually get what they desire in the area of love. Magically, they feel and believe, that special person will come into their life someday to make everything good for them. Many hold onto this dream for their entire life, regardless of whether it happens.

Personality Connections: Males of the Spade suit are attracted to Six of Hearts females and an irresponsible or dishonest person will probably be among them. For a Six of Hearts woman, the Four is a strong marriage because of a karmic bond. Six of Hearts females should avoid men of the Heart suit. Club females are enjoyed by both genders, especially the Four, Eight and Ten.

Confrontations: Relationships seem to have a more predominant importance in today's world and the Law of Karma extends into all-important areas of our lives. It is not surprising that this has become the number one area for personal development, because we learn a great deal about ourselves from our personal relationships. They are the last and highest steps in personal growth. The Six of Hearts card carries with it a lot that is important for every one of us. We really are not prepared to go on in any way with personal or spiritual progress until we have become truly aware of a loving relationship.