Nine of Hearts

Cosmic Delight

Characteristics: The Nine of Hearts is a spiritual card and the fulfillment that results from this side is rarely lasting until personal desires are put away in their proper place. Fulfillment, major loss, or both of these are a portion of the Nine of Hearts. No straying from what is right, wise and true is permitted because of the double Saturn in this card. If they do stray there is an immediate and often a painful rebuke. All Nines are here to settle what is owed and proceed after settling issues and debts from the past. For the Nine of Hearts, key relationships might end and thus complete certain cycles. While they represent graduations, if these climaxes are resisted, they will seem to be disappointing and even tragic. Spiritual lessons fill their life path. Those who give in to their fears and allow in escapist tendencies will experience suffering, while those who listen to their calling and stick to higher principle will experience seemingly blessed lives. Payment of obligations from the past might mean experiencing financial losses at certain periods of their life. They have excellent minds and good hearts allowing them to share with the world and are givers. Because of their innate wish to give to others, many are found in the field of counseling. The Nine of Hearts is either a person who has been disappointed frequently in life or an exceedingly happy, generous person. Manifesting their higher attributes is always an individual choice, even when dealing with highly spiritual challenges and patterns. They must keep things on a business basis and be cautious not to be the martyr. Any field of science or business will be successful because of their intelligence and creativity, which is unsurpassed. Part of their challenge is not to go to the lower path and low morals; to use this creativity in a mature manner and not cheat.

Relationships: The Nine of Hearts can have some of the most challenging personal relationships of all the cards in the deck, unless they operate on a higher and moral side of the card. Attitude is critical in turning sure losses into graduations and fulfillments. They will probably either change their perspective about what kind of relationship they would like or attract individuals who cannot make the commitment that is necessary for true love. There is an emotional restlessness about them. They can get to the truth quicker and discover the satisfaction they are looking for if they stop saying to themselves that they are doing all they can to help their partners. There can be a highly co-dependent aspect to a Nine of Hearts. Adopting a victim-savior attitude in their personal relationships is a possibility. This creates numerous problems and makes it more difficult to sort through obstacles when they appear.

Personality Connections: Heart males and of Nine of Spades women are often found together although a Club man can also prove interesting and worthwhile. There is an attraction to women of the Spade suit that men have. Certain Fives could make for a good partnership.

Confrontations: Among the special Birth Cards we call the Semi-Fixed Cards; the Nine of Hearts is one of only four. Each of the pairs in this small group shares a special relationship with their other half. There are two pairs of cards in this four,. There is kind of a magic about them and they have their own special place in the deck. Pleasantness, beauty, abundance of material comforts and pleasure are in the Nine of Hearts because it sits in the Venus/Venus position relative to the Life Spread. Their Birth Card moves though, in a highly unique way, because each New Year, they relocate to the opposite spot in the Life Spread. We can picture a life that is the pinnacle of pleasure and relaxation, maybe even too much so if we double this. If this is doubled, we can only imagine how potentially difficult their life may be. Clearly there are opposites at work here across the spectrum and this shows up in their position in the Life Spread.
