

Chinese and Western Combinations

Aries (Dragon) Month

Combination with Rooster Year:

"Being" Mars, Fire, Cardinal

"Conquerer" Yang-Negative Metal

Characteristics: Dissipation, Humor, Candor, Heartiness, Blind Faith, Pedantry, Conservatism, Bossiness, Chic, Resilience, Domination, Enthusiasm, Cockiness, Affability, Boastfulness, Willfulness, Talent, Excess, Enterprise, Naiveté, Drive, Ostentation, Sanctimony, Courage

The Aries, of course, brings to the table, a pleasant and open personality and a character that is generous as well as extroverted. Lazy is a total antonym for them, for they are go-getters. If it is unusual, foreign or from another part of the world, this combination is interested in them. The Aries-Rooster is a combination that is an endless source of enthusiasm coupled with relentless curiosity. The former stems primarily from the Rooster and the latter primarily from the Aries. But both signs embody these characteristics. They long for excitement and experience. They want to try, doing and experiencing everything and that is not to overstate their case. They are on-call twenty-four hours a day for adventure and excitement. The Aries-Rooster might be found living in Mongolia as a nomad in a yurt. If they do not have one, they will find a person who does. Living among the pygmies in the Congo would be a dream come true for this combination. If this sound as though the Aries-Rooster is anti-social, they are not. They are, to some extent, clothes hounds, but have style in this regard too. Because of their nature, however, they are apt to try the far out and cutting edge at times, but their style of choice cannot be pinpointed because it varies from person to person. Suffice it to say that how they look is of importance to them. They can socialize with anyone, including those pygmies. Their good personality assures an ample number of friends who they enjoy hanging out with and celebrating many festivities, including exotic ones. This could very well take place, if not in a yurt, their own home that has been decorated with exotic style and grace.

Romance: While they are sociable and well liked they are frank and direct with their speech. This can cause them problems at times but they are generally more affectionate in nature. The Aries-Rooster depends on other people both to verify their being and to enhance their self-worth. Consequently, they are not loners. Indeed, they need others to more or less reflect their existence. This gives them an ability to read other people's reactions to them.

Relationships: Cancer-Rabbits and Libra-Snakes, as well as Leo-Dogs are not good. Capricorns are not good, especially Dogs for this combination. There is a mutual attraction between Sagittarians and Aries-Roosters. The best choices in the romance department are the Gemini-Snake and Buffalo. Really good are Leo-Buffalo or Leo-Snake or Aquarius-Snake or Dragon.

Family Life: This combination will fulfill their obligations to their family; will go to all-important occasions and especially visiting their parents. In spite of the fact that some of these events and celebration might be boring they do them. Their character dictates this. Publicly, this is what you see when you look at the life of this combination. The Aries-Rooster has a strong sense of duty, especially to his family and close friends. They tend to always do the right thing.

Likelihood: The difficulty in terms of career for this combination might be the fact that there are so many choices it is hard to narrow them down to just one. But regardless of their choice, there is a high likelihood of success. It is essentially impossible to say what is the best vocation for an Aries-Rooster. They can be essentially anything they like and their interests are diverse. They are talented in creative endeavors, humanitarian activities and practical careers.

Famous Aries/Roosters: Peter Ustinov, Simone Signoret, General Patton.
