

Chinese and Western Combinations

Cancer (Ram) Month

Combination with Horse Year:

"Sense" Moon, Water, Cardinal

"Command" Yang-Positive Fire,

Characteristics: Anxiety, Insight, Pragmatism, Accomplishment, Autonomy, Unscrupulousness, Rebellion, Popularity, Style, Haste, Persuasiveness, Caution, Dexterity, Hypersensitivity, Selfishness, Caring, Despondency, Affection, Avarice, Moodiness, Imagination, Possessiveness, Tenacity, Irritability

This combination loves so deeply and is so giving that they will even do so with essentially no reciprocation whatsoever on the part of their partner. The Cancer-Horse is probably the most dedicated and loving partner of all the combinations. Many people claim that they would do anything for the person they love. In the case of the Cancer-Horse, this is literally true. This is all the result of the extraordinary romantic streak in the Horse coupled with the love of home and family of the Cancer. The Cancer-Horse will work two jobs to take care of their partner and the children and essentially do it alone because of their dedication and forbearance, but mostly from pure, unselfish and unconditional love. This combination is careful in their decision making process. They have a firm list of priorities and that list is populated with those they love and the home they share with them. Of course involved here is a stoicism and patience well beyond that of most mere mortals. Stoicism, as a philosophy, is a guiding principle and this combination is bound by principles. They also have intelligence, which helps them navigate stormy waters and live a rich and meaningful internal life.

Romance: The romantic fervor in this combination is unlikely to fade with the passage of time. The trickiest part of all for this combination is not necessarily to find someone deserving of them, but to find someone who understands them and reciprocates their love to some degree. The Cancer-Horse has love to share and love to spare. All they need is a person to share it with. That necessitates finding a deserving person and whoever it is should probably consider themselves lucky. This combination is tender and affectionate and that is more than likely something that will continue throughout a relationship.

Relationships: In this combination very bad choices are Aries, Libra and Capricorn-Rats. Also to be avoided are Aries or Libra-Buffalos as well as Aries or Capricorn-

Boars. Some top of the line romantic picks for the Cancer-Horse are the Taurus, Virgo, Scorpio and Pisces; especially those in the Tiger, Ram and Dog category. In the Dog category, the best choices are Taurus and Scorpio.

Family Life: In this combination their refrigerator is open to their friends and there is no need to worry about turning on their TV. They chat in a homespun style and gossip with the best of them. They make people happy. And, once this is accomplished, they themselves are happy. The Cancer-Horse is friendly and welcoming. Of course their home must be friendly too and that means comfortable. This combination's home is not a museum or a showcase; this home is a place to live. It is clean and well kept but it is not a place that causes fear about relaxing.

Likelihood: As workers in this combination they are diligent, creative and well liked. Not many can work harder than the Cancer-Horse with the exception of the Ox. As a result, they tend to do just fine financially. Both those who hire them and those who work for them are fortunate. They are excellent at hosting parties and always willing to spend some of their hard earned cash. This combination is multitalented and multifaceted. They are capable of doing nearly anything from crafts to poetry. As a result, their family is well taken care of and their children have good foundations.

Famous Cancer/Horses: Rembrandt, Duke of Windsor, Ingmar Bergman, Karen Black.