

Chinese and Western Combinations

Capricorn (Buffalo) Month

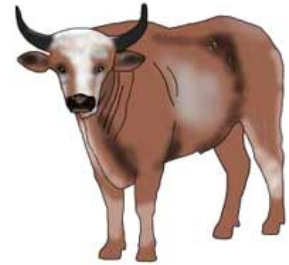

Combination with Buffalo Year:

"Utilize" Saturn, Earth, Cardinal

"Survivor" Yin-Negative Water

Characteristics: Vindictiveness, Self-Doubt, Stability, Wisdom, Innovation, Bias, Diligence, Superiority, Epicureanism, Dependability, Standoffishness, Eloquence, Generosity, Plodding, Loneliness, Bigotry, Resolve, Clumsiness, Strength of Purpose, Stiffness, Integrity, Stubbornness, Ambition, Pretension

This combination's views are unique and they can be brutal in their approach to other people. They have, to be kind about it, their own view of the Golden Rule and being vicious is sometimes fair and in accord with how others should be treated. For that matter, they have their own view about nearly everything and those views are carved in stone in their front yard. That viciousness does not generally include violence, however. The Capricorn-Buffalo is a traditionalist in their philosophy and approach to life. They are the type who sits on the front porch and says how good things used to be. They plod on relentlessly but slowly and changing their minds is pretty much out of the question. It is just that they are powerful and beastly in their willpower and thoroughness. The Capricorn-Buffalo will help their extended family out if need be but they will not do it happily and there will be rumblings and grumblings from them about doing it. Friends of friends can take care of themselves. Forget about asking the Capricorn-Buffalo. The antonym for quitter is the Capricorn-Buffalo. They never give up and that is the name of that tune. This combination is a mountain person who says what they mean and means what they say. If they say they will be there at 10 AM on Tuesday, you can bet your farm on it. They will get out of their hospital bed to do it if necessary.

Romance: This combination is tied too strongly to their family to have a home wrecker seek and destroy. Their commitment to say what they mean includes an attitude that shuns divorce and considers it failure. This combination is, after all, respectable, if not a winner of the good citizenship award. Love, sex and marriage are important to the Capricorn-Buffalo and perhaps not in that order. This is a highly sexed individual and downright robust in that department. This combination needs marriage and they need family. While it is true that their sex drive might lead to a little dabbling outside of marriage.

Relationships: For compatibility moving gently into the realm of the negative in this combination are Aries-Dragons and Cancer-Dragons. Additional poor choices are the Cancer or Libra-Ram as are the Libra-Buffalo, Tiger and Monkey. Bringing up the rear is the Cancer-Boar. In terms of an excellent selection in the romance category, the best are Taurus, Leo, Virgo, Scorpio and Pisces-Snakes. Probably Scorpio-Snakes are not the best of choices. On the other hand, Roosters from those sign are distinct possibilities. Additional good picks are Taurus, Leo, Virgo or Pisces-Rats. Continuing the list of positive choices are the Leo-Boar or Scorpio-Dragon.

Family Life: The Capricorn-Buffalo lives on the right side of the tracks near the country club. They give home tours and explanations of the furnishing to all comers. The décor is not only classy it is famous; or at least those who designed or made it are famous even though visitors might not have heard of them. Everything is authentic, regardless of the type of home they have. It could be a farmhouse previously owned by an artist or a church made famous in a song. Farmhouses have real animals and churches have real pews, of course. The Capricorn-Buffalo is an excellent parent and takes care to have children who they can be proud of. That means good schools and proper outside interests. Posh and glamorous come to mind when it comes to the home of the Capricorn-Buffalo. That would carry all the way from the inside to the outside of this abode. This home virtually drips with the aristocratic; or, barring this, attempts at it.

Likelihood: Respectability will do just fine for this combination. For what they have and the position they hold, they achieve recognition and admiration. For the Capricorn-Buffalo this is a fulfillment of their dreams and indeed, most people would be quite satisfied to lead a secure and traditional life with their family as does this combination. This individual generally attains what is most desired and that is security. They have a good livelihood and that is what they wanted all along. There never was an interest in being famous.
