

Chinese and Western Combinations

Gemini (Horse) Month

Combination with Dragon Year:

"Reflect" Mercury, Air, Mutable

"Take Charge" Yang-Positive Wood

Characteristics: Self-Infatuation, Strength, Braggadocio, Glibness, Sentimentality, Impatience, Volubility, Quick-Wittedness, Success, Enthusiasm, Pluck, Good Health, Perspicacity, Mistrust, Deception, Indecisiveness, Superficiality, Dissatisfaction, Flexibility, Rigidity, Dexterity, Versatility, Performance, Inconstancy

The Gemini-Dragon have an excess of confidence coupled with flamboyance. They are attention getters. A large portion of this attention getting is used to attract people to do their bidding for them. This is another highly energized and captivating Gemini combination. To meet one is to forever remember them. They are powered by excitement and a mind that can grasp almost anything. But their engines stall at times because they have the attention span of a two year old. If they cannot get someone to install the new ceiling fan for free, which is entirely possible, they will find the perfect person to hire to do it. Hidden in the background of all this is the specter of boredom. This combination can be bored easily. They can plan, they can lead, they can dream up all kinds of activities and events, but they cannot be bored. It drives them right up the wall. They are so good at this it is probable they headed a human resource department in a previous life. If the job is unpleasant, say for example filling out income tax forms, they will not do it. Someone else will do it for them.

Romance: There will be no hint of monkey business in this combination. Nothing short of blind and total love and loyalty are acceptable. Gemini-Dragons are among the most loyal, faithful and loving partners one can find. They are not shallow and do not get bored in this department. They will love a person like they have never been loved and that means their entire being; every single metaphysical sinew and epistemological nerve ending. That love and that loyalty are not free. In fact the price is too much for some. What they want in exchange for what they gladly give is the same in return.

Relationships: Virgo-Buffalo as well as Scorpio, Sagittarius or Pisces-Dogs or Buffalo are poor choices for this combination. Aries-Rats, Monkeys and Boars are all excellent choices in the area of romance in this combination. Leo-Rats, Tigers and Monkeys all capture their attention, but there is reason for caution. Libra or Aquarius-Rats are great. If anyone is perfect, and of course that is impossible, it is the Libra-Monkey.

Family Life: This combination is kind and charitable to all people. Plainly put, this is a person who cares and acts on it. Yes they talk, but they also act. There is, in this as with all things in life, something to be careful about. It is not wise to make the Gemini-Dragon feel like they are the stagehand rather than the star. They need to shine at all times. Gemini-Dragons are wonderful family people in nearly every way. They are happy to have lots of children around, all the relatives are welcome and people can drop into their homes at any time.

Likelihood: The fundamental issue here is whether they have the stick-to-a-tive-ness to continue in a position. The creeping boredom of this combination comes to the forefront again; can they stay or will they go. Gemini-Dragons have talent, charm and ability. They have vast quantities of energy and a mind capable of taking on almost anything and doing a great job. They not only dress for success, they have that special activeness that radiates ability.

Famous Gemini/Dragons: Ralph Bellamy, James Brown.