This combination can be absolutely needy when it comes to others. Ramming (no pun intended) headfirst into this quality is the Gemini in a reversal of characters, because they tend to be shooting stars. Dialectical combinations make for some interesting characters and the Gemini-Ram is certainly one. They can be busy as bees, but most certainly not all the time because they get tired. One trait that tends to rise to the surface is akin to cynicism and results in frequent sharp and critical comments to others. But it should be clear that they do need people perhaps to make these very comments to. This combination is not exactly psychic, but they are very insightful, probably because of their skills at communication. This is also reflected in their aptitude in the arts. Finally, in the communications department, the Gemini-Ram is a shameless gossip. What they need more than anything else is security, however. The Gemini is also a communicator so the result here can be razor sharp comments sprinkled with intelligence and humor. Their bite and their humor as well, can just as easily be focused on themselves.

Romance: This combination loves and needs the company of other people. They also love and need a certain amount of flexibility in the loyalty realm; especially when they are younger. This combination is not known for its fidelity but this is in fact, quite the contrary. Living up to the image of many Gemini, they enjoy playing and they enjoy it a lot. This does not mean they want to live alone. They do not.

Relationships: Because of a tendency of this combination to utilize his or her freedom, this combination needs someone who is more like a rock. That means staying away from Virgo or Scorpio-Buffalos as well as Virgo, Sagittarius and Pisces-Dogs and Tigers. Some good romantic picks are the Aries-Rabbit or Libra-Horse or Boar. Aquarius-Rabbits and Boars and Leo-Horses also capture this combination's attention.

Family Life: This combination is the general and tactician and the person to whom everyone looks for guidance. The Gemini-Ram makes a good parent and, with someone who is open minded and somewhat tolerant, a good spouse. The Gemini-Ram is a natural parent and loving family member. While they do go on journeys, both literal and metaphorical, they enjoy time at home with those they love. The home is the headquarters of their heart and that headquarters is the location of all the significant activities of their life. In addition, it is comfortable and there is a place for everything and everything is in its place; including the children.

Likelihood: This combination makes excellent followers but not particularly good leaders. They prefer not to be in management positions. This combination is a good worker and even though negative and complaining at times, they are responsible. They have an aptitude for the artistic and perhaps the performing arts where it is possible they can be successful.
