The Pisces is the spiritual side of this individual. They are easily hurt and often this makes them resentful. In the decision making department they are wishy-washy and have difficulty making choices. The Dog side of this complex individual is constant. Dogs are loyal and faithful. The Pisces-Dog is a highly sensitive individual. They happen to possess a little more of this quality than the average Pisces. It is best to tip-toe around them and take care of them gently. There is a bit of a difference in the Pisces-Dog's sensitive side in that they do not like to be doubted or disagreed with. They are lacking somewhat in the area of will power, but have a dedicated mind. The Pisces side is accessible but porous. They are dedicated to understanding the world better and that often comes from personal observation. Many Pisces-Dogs aspire to be heroes and accomplish great feats of daring. They do share some traits that are akin to the Pisces though. It is possible for Dogs to be self-doubting and, in the Zodiac sense, they can be skeptical. They can even hold forth in a kind of sanctimonious manner. Put this in a pot and stir it up and the result is an anxious person who also is sardonic. They can also be seen as pompous. They can be difficult to be around because they are so crotchety. They love to criticize things and worry about it after they have. Making friends is a challenge for this individual for these very reasons. It takes a rather special person to hang out with the Pisces-Dog because they are always on the defensive. Dogs are devoted, loyal and trustworthy. Dogs are dutiful and respectable. The Pisces-Dog combination is just totally bewildered by new people who enter their comfort zone.

Romance: This combination needs a lot of attention especially in terms of reassurance. They do not like to attempt new projects and need to be urged rather strongly to do them. They need a lot of affection and care because they lack in self-assurance. Good natured tolerance is necessary for those who are married to a Pisces-Dog because they are so high strung and insecure. The Pisces-Dog enjoys the security that marriage provides. They are good and loving partners who tend to remain faithful. They also want their partner to be of high quality and make sure they choose nothing but the best.

Relationships: Trailing behind for compatibility in this combination and not suggested as mates are Gemini, Virgo and Sagittarius-Dragons. Also out are Rams and Roosters from the same signs. Topping the list of recommended romances are Taurus, Libra and Capricorn-Tigers. Additional fine selections can be found among Scorpio and Capricorn-Rabbits. The good news continues with Scorpio-Horses.

Family Life: This combination makes an excellent mom or dad. They care deeply about their children. The Pisces-Dog supports and, indeed, pushes their children to do well at school. They also promote extra-curricular activities. Personal environment is of little consequence to Pisces-Dogs. They are comfortable almost anyplace as long as things are reasonably agreeable. They are not much interested in looking at home decorating magazines or worrying about whether the curtains match the rug. They do tend to take good care of those things that they have, but have no need for lavishness.

Likelihood: This combination makes a good worker who is steady and reliable. They are prone to having a sharp tongue, but they are never mean or cruel. The Pisces-Dog is a multi-talented individual. They have a talent for almost anything. They are not only idea people themselves, but they are capable of taking other people's ideas and expanding them into a new project. They can do this quickly because they are sharp intellectually. They are also good humored. All of this sounds terrific and is great. There is a fly in the ointment, however, and that is the over-sensitive nature of the Pisces-Dog. If they are criticized, rejected or offended, they collapse into a pile of jelly.
