This combination has a giant power generator seemingly producing power twenty-four hours a day. They never sleep. They never get tired; or so it seems. The old fashioned character of this individual continues with their manner. The Sagittarius-Horse is like the statue in the park in terms of strength and power. Notable too is the fact that this statue is predominantly horse. There is a homely wisdom to the character and values of this individual. They are in control not only of themselves but also of their surroundings. These individuals stare straight ahead focused firmly on their goal. They are ever polite and ever considerate. When people say the Sagittarius-Horse is classy they are not talking about merely their presentation to the world. This combination does not want to be viewed as part of the crowd and they generally succeed in not being thought of in that manner. They proudly march to the beat of their own drummer. They are talking about their grace and demeanor in social settings. They carry themselves with their heads held high and their shoulders back and people sense their presence. The internal workings of the Sagittarius-Horse reflect an individual who approaches arrogance but does not cross the line.

Romance: This combination wants a spouse strong enough to be responsible and take care of those things necessary for maintaining a secure home and family. The Sagittarius-Horse insists on doing things their way and takes care of business while their partner takes care of the home front. The Sagittarius-Horse is likely to slip up in the area of romance when they are younger, but they will not be major foibles. This is a passionate combination and has a lot of oats that it can sow in its early years. Maturity does come to the Sagittarius-Horse however, and they grasp the concept of having a partner suitable for their goals.

Relationships: Out of the running for compatibility in this combination are Virgo, Gemini and Pisces-Rats. In the area of romance, combined with the desire for success, the best choices are Aries, Libra, Leo and Aquarius-Tigers. Other superb choices are Aries, Leo and Libra-Ram. Continuing the list of positive partner choices are Libra and Aquarius-Dogs.

Family Life: This combination must have their workspace at home and there are no exceptions. It does not matter where it is; in the attic, basement or spare bedroom, they make it what it is. They spare no expense to make it work and to make it attractive. There is the proper lighting, plenty of electrical outlets, all the gadgets they need, plenty of countertop and workspace. It is all there and it is all first class. The Sagittarius-Horse essentially has no interest in the décor of their home. They are happy to make do with hand-me-downs. They like to be comfortable like everyone does, but that is the extent of it. If their home is decorated or attractive, it is certain that it has been done by their spouse.

Likelihood: This combination has excellent managerial skills and is a born organizer. They are also good in front of groups and have superb leadership skills. While they are on the authoritarian side, they do have a degree of tact as well. Professions that need a degree of perceptiveness are best for the Sagittarius-Horse. That includes, of course, work demanding acute skills of observation. They are also good in the area of problem solving, especially when it comes to the issues of others.

Famous Sagittarius/Horses: Leonid Brezhnev, James Thurber, Alexander Solzhenitsyn, Jean-Luc Godard, Jimi Hendrix, Jean-Louis Trintignant.
