This combination dreams of being great adventurers and explorers who sail the seven seas in search of buried treasure. That dream for this combination is not possible. They will travel but probably only as far as their grown kids' house for a weekend. The Sagittarius-Tiger can probably best be thought of as someone who does not want to grow up. They are not immature, nor are they irresponsible. They just have these dreams and desires that are young. They are very charming people and some of the things that they want are doable for them. Take, for example, gadgets. They love gadgets and gizmos of every type and variety. That is pretty reasonable and pretty attainable. If their kids live on the other side of the country the Sagittarius-Tiger will pay for tickets for them to fly home. This combination has an excellent sense of humor, but they simply do not want to be away from their home base for long in spite of their fantasies about adventure. Those are generally realized by watching the Travel Channel. Traveling for business is probably OK with them and they can ward off homesickness. They are not stick-in-the-muds. They just would rather do things in an easy-does-it manner and that means to do things in the manner that is easiest. This is the type of person who prefers staying with friends or relatives rather than getting a hotel. They can climb mountains and swim in the sea as long as it does not interfere with work. Their adventures are generally restricted to the local fishing hole or the closest national park. They might go snorkeling in the nearby river or seashore if there is one. That is where their great discoveries will be made and not 20,000 leagues under the sea.

Romance: Alas, this combination is not exactly in what you see is what you get category. They are super sensitive for starters and things can go bad quickly. There is often pessimism waiting to spring out. Those attracted to the Sagittarius-Tiger need to know that this combination must be handled with kid gloves. The mistrusting nature of the Sagittarius-Tiger makes love and romance a challenge. They seem determined to find fault with potential partners and the tiniest flaw is often blown into a major problem. They are, however, the type of person that members of the opposite sex are drawn to. They are, after all, kind and considerate. Frequently, at the beginning of a relationship, things go swimmingly.

Relationships: For compatibility in this combination poor choices include Virgos, Gemini or Pisces born in Buffalo, Rabbit or Snakes. Moving down the list of negative picks there are Virgo and Pisces-Monkeys. Finally, Gemini-Rams are not recommended at all. In the area of love or romance, good choices are Aries, Leo, Libra and Aquarius-Horses. More good picks can be found with Leo, Libra and Aquarius-Dogs.

Family Life: The Sagittarius-Tiger is not a huge family person. If they have children, they will have someone to play with though and they enjoy that part of the picture. The home and family start to matter a little more once they get past middle age, but these things are never a major priority. For this combination, the home is a place to live and be comfortable. There is not much more to it than that. Sagittarius-Tigers do not worry about design, fashion, or decorating. Of course as an eternal child this pretty much makes sense. They need a TV, computer for their games and stereo for their music. Other than that, they just want to be comfortable while they dream dreams of faraway lands and adventures.

Likelihood: This combination is quite capable of managing extremely large projects. Because of their wide-ranging interests they can also manage things that entail numerous phases and aspects. A weakness might be that they are not much in terms of respecting hierarchical procedure. Who their boss might be is irrelevant to them and they are not fond of work that is repetitive. This combination is driven to work hard. They have a great deal of ambition. They are oblivious to what others may think of them when it comes to seeking their goals; and they are willing to attain that goal by any means necessary. This attitude opens up possibilities in their profession. They are, for example, willing to undertake unpopular projects.

Famous Sagittarius/Tiger: Beethoven, Emily Dickinson, Cristina Onassis, Tracy Austin.
