

Chinese and Western Combinations

Scorpio (Boar) Month

Combination with Boar Year:

"Form" Mars, Water, Fixed

"Cultivator" Yin-Negative Water

Characteristics: Boarheadedness, Gourmandism, Honesty, Culture, Discipline, Hesitation, Voluptuousness, Materialism, Wrath, Scrupulousness, Intransigence, Tenderness, Credulity, Gallantry, Magnetism, Inspiration, Revenge, Sadism, Suspicion, Sovereignty, Fanaticism, Dedication, Mercilessness, Sincerity

As with other Scorpios, this combination has a mysterious quality to it; one that only adds to its stature. They are very ambitious and they know who to know to get there. They lead a life that is designed to get them ahead. They do suffer a bit from being aggressive in getting their way. The Scorpio-Boar is one of those combinations that is probably born for success. For starters they have the halo effect – they are frequently good looking to the max. There is a regal air to their good looks. One can almost see the hoards of admiring subjects lining the roadside. Far from being innocent and gullible, this combination is so suspicious that it borders on paranoia. They both push as well as shove. Furthermore, they are a bit too heavy on the verbal side of things. When young this combination could almost be a farmer it is so busy sowing wild oats. They tend to tone this down a notch, as they get older. All in all the combination is a good mixture. They have, in addition to everything else, a very sensual nature that is derived from both the Scorpio and the Boar side. They can talk the talk and dress the dress as well, being smooth in both areas.

Romance: This combination has a huge and terrifying temper if they get jealous and this is not enjoyable for anyone. Another somewhat negative trait is that they like to play games with people's emotions. Loving a Scorpio-Boar is a difficult and challenging business. Nevertheless, people will get in line to do it. Ego can be an issue for the Scorpio-Boar. To be sure, this combination does work and does try, but when it comes right down to it, they are self-seeking. They are challenging. One thing that needs to be said is that the Scorpio-Boar is intelligent. But let's not forget their wonderful sense of humor. Combine this with their looks and you have a creature to behold. When they love they love deeply. They also like to have people behind them to worship the ground they walk on.

Relationships: Not particularly good selections for compatibility in this combination are Taurus and Leo-Snakes. Taurus-Horses are best avoided as well. Bringing up the rear in the negative category are Aquarius-Monkeys. Top tier choices in the department of love are Cancer, Virgo, Capricorn and Pisces-Ram. Additional good choices are Cancer, Virgo and Pisces-Rabbits.

Family Life: There is a traditional and somewhat conservative feeling to the home for this combination. Much of the creative and handy-person work alike will have been done by the Scorpio-Boar themselves. There is no point in having such a home if the rich and famous do not see it, so receptions and parties are a must. In the parenthood department this combination is strict and insistent but very loving. Style and grace are the be-all and end-all of the Scorpio-Boar's home. Surely, they believe that life is not worth living without décor suitable to the high rank they have or will attain. Plush, expensive, luxurious and similar adjectives come to mind. Each room has its own theme but the home matches and fits into a pattern that takes the breath away.

Likelihood: Riches and comfort and wonderful possessions matter to this combination. The early years might be difficult for them because they are threatening to the establishment. Time teaches them that they need to tone things down a tad and put people at ease. Having done this, they can reach their goals. This combination can attain fortune in the financial professions. It is therefore important to choose correctly. The Scorpio-Boar will not work for peanuts even if they happen to be large peanuts. There is a goal in their minds and that goal is the pinnacle of success.

Famous Scorpio/Boars: Marie Antoinette, Alain Delon, Richard Dreyfuss.