

Chinese and Western Combinations

Scorpio (Boar) Month

Combination with Snake Year:

"Form" Mars, Water, Fixed

"Feel" Yang-Negative Fire

Characteristics: Intransigence, Compassion, Discipline, Clairvoyance, Exclusiveness, Tenderness, Cupidity, Discretion, Suspicion, Laziness, Presumption, Inspiration, Revenge, Sadism, Extravagance, Sagacity, Attractiveness, Sovereignty, Fanaticism, Mercilessness, Intuition, Magnetism, Dedication, Dissimulation

This combination is super-sensitive with deep feelings considering they are a snake. Of course, Scorpio brings the element of being sensual. There is also a perception of aristocracy. Self-examination and introspection are part and parcel of the Scorpio-Snake. Scorpio-Snake love things that stir up the emotions and tactile sensations. They are a combination of beauty and opulence, kindness and excessiveness. Without these things they feel their life is meaningless. The Snake adds a certain kind of wisdom born of the philosophical nature of the combination. This combination is fussy about its appearance and they take meticulous care to not be part of the crowd. They will be noticed and commented on for their appearance and that is their point. They are compulsive about their grooming habits as well. While they do not actually wear costumes, they do tend to be showy and dramatic even in the most ordinary of situations. They have an extra sense as well as super-sharp intuitive abilities. They seem to have a keen ability to determine what others want. Deep is probably one way to think of them: deep thinkers. As with many who go under the surface of things, they can experience emotional pain and turmoil.

Romance: One might as well get used to having all the attention focused on their partner when they go out as a couple. The Scorpio-Snake tends to choose mates based on their being subservient. This combination wants to be the boss at home as well as in the overall relationship.

Being the partner of a Scorpio-Snake is somewhat akin to being married to a movie star and that star shines brightly. People love to love this combination. They radiate beauty and coolness and people turn into fans. One thing that helps to keep them on the straight and narrow in the area of loyalty is the fact that they are very picky about who they get involved with. Nearly everyone is a follower and fan of this combination.

Relationships: Taurus and Leo-Tigers, all have something missing to make a good match for this combination. Eliminated from contention are Taurus and Gemini-Boars. Virgo, Capricorn and Pisces-Dragons are excellent choices for love and romance.

Cancer, Virgo, Capricorn and Pisces-Roosters are also premium selections. Another fine choice is the Cancer-Buffalo. Lower down on the list are Taurus, Leo and Aquarius-Monkeys.

Family Life: This combination makes good parents and believes in spoiling their children. They do, however, get pretty uncomfortable if their children get more attention and adulation than they do. That just is not supposed to happen. Their children are filled with energy and are very good looking. Like the Scorpio-Dragon parent, they will probably need bodyguards to keep away the hordes of admirers too. The Scorpio-Snake has a home that is, broadly speaking, in the showcase category. It is luxurious and expensive. Exotic and natural fabrics are emphasized. There is a customized feeling to it as though most of it has been handmade. The statement they are making is somewhat akin to appearance actually is reality; although it is clear that the Scorpio-Snake is really pretty special too.

Likelihood: This combination is fine at being a boss but does not like to work for others. They are power oriented. If they believe someone has been disloyal to them or otherwise offended their sensibilities, they can be downright cruel in their revenge. The Scorpio-Snake is a creative combination that is flexible and adaptable. They are able to handle most things. They like inventive and pragmatic schemes. They have no problem fitting into an established order as long as people recognize what they perceive as their worth both in terms of reputation and finances.
