

Sun in Cancer/Moon in Cancer:

Bodyguard

The emotional sensitivity and depth of the Cancer, however, along with your astuteness and ability to erect stronger barriers between you and your environment at the same time as you become more sensitive, combines with your resourcefulness, intelligence and refinement. You either withdraw deep inside your fortress or utilize your natural ability in the face of the aggressive and hostile world. You saw and dealt with the uncongenial world around you in your youth, which was probably a test. Through careful examination, you ascertained the most dependable and certain way to move through a very irregular world at that time. You held onto this habit once it was set in motion. The double Cancer wants protection from the time of childhood until their old age. Nearly everything for them is self-protection. Building metaphorical castles to protect you and preparing your defenses occupies a lot of time for you. In kind of dual points, this gives you huge weaknesses and terrific strengths. Your Cancer Sun is magnified along with the Cancer Moon. You keep a low profile and are humble in your lifestyle and interaction with others. You can have big swings of depression and high spirits, with ebbing and flowing feelings and responses. You can, on one hand, have a deep understanding of the mood of people close to you or, on the other hand, your over extended sensitivity may cause you to stave off people altogether. Phobias and fears of assorted varieties are also possible psychological results, but once dealt with you can be creative. You are astute at finance and have an excellent vision when it comes to business. A spiritual path may call you because many Cancer-Cancer people are quite religious. You move through life adapting your strategy and personality to handle the moment, even though you are active all the time. Instinctively, you are aware of what others expect of you and this makes you an excellent tactician and diplomat. There is nothing more fearful to you than vulnerability, so in a battle you never go at an opponent straight on, but rather circuitously. Total withdrawal is possible if your environment is truly hostile or threatening, favoring complete closing off with others. That others do not care much about what you are hiding would probably surprise you. Your ego is actually the cause of your serious paranoia.
