

Sun in Cancer/Moon in Taurus:

Smorgasbord

You are excellent at figuring out and understanding others and you have a good degree of self-knowledge. You have tested most of the defense and escape mechanisms that Cancers tend to use, but in the end, you depend on your own tenaciousness and wisdom as a protective cover against the difficulties in life. You utilize these to permit you to feel more secure. Even though you are thoughtful of others, you do not often follow their advice and listen to their suggestions. The Taurus Moon gives you durability and determination that underlies your charm, innocence and a soft nature. You have an astuteness, strength and assurance residing under that delicate and unsure outer layer. You almost always go around with your guard up because you probably had some difficult time earlier in life and you do not want to be taken advantage of like you were before. Adaptability is one of your strengths, but you do not lose sight of your own being. Intuition guides you in a stubborn and unrelenting fashion and consequently it is hard for you to give up first impressions or forget previous transgressions. You hold grudges. Your ruination might be the result of this part of your personality if you do not learn to put the past behind you. There is an original approach to what you do and you have a wonderful imagination. This can serve you for good or for ill. This is true because the same imagination can, unfortunately, cause irrational fears, doubts and even paranoia. Be constructive with the use of your imagination and you can succeed at nearly anything creative. A deep depression if you spend too much time in your fantasy life is possible, so you should try to stay based in reality. Criticism is hard for you to grasp because you always think you are right. Admitting you are wrong is almost impossible. Shifting the blame for something to another is easy for you and you do it frequently. If someone disputes what you say, you can get irritable and irrational with him or her. The same holds true if you are emotionally threatened because you need to feel secure. Learning that some advice is sound and that not everyone is a threat to your security would be helpful, as would not being so vindictive. Excellent potential for creativity is possible for you because of your imagination and originality.
