

Sun in Cancer/Moon in Virgo:

Attendant

At a young age you were wise because you matured faster than your peer group. You have, luckily, adaptability and that helps with your high degree of sensitivity. You can overcome whatever barriers you encounter because of your perception, level-headedness and experience. The mental perception of the Virgo Moon heightens the emotional sensitivity of the Cancer person. The antagonism and malevolence of the world is something you have had to deal with since you were very young and this has a big impact on you. Super-sensitivity may be present in you because of the adversity, suffering and indifference that has, at times, haunted you. Consequently you may be too shy, introspective and even emotionally catatonic. A Virgo Moon that provides forbearance, inner strength and ability for self-sacrifice also assists you. You are bighearted and kind as well as generous to everyone. That is your essence and you are known and admired for it. You maintain your sympathy and compassion for others no matter how difficult your life is or what you might be going through. You often find your calling is working for others because you want so much to feel needed. You are extremely frugal in terms of personal expenses but very generous, almost to a fault, with others. Be more generous to yourself and then you can enjoy life more and open up to the world around you. You love to give affection to others, but oddly you do not particularly like to get it in return. You want to feel needed in a relationship, but luckily your standards are very high. That helps keep away people who would drag you down. It is possible you will have a symbolic relationship of sorts. You might seek a religious or social ideal or enterprise. The merely physical is not adequate for you. Being a workaholic is the approach to life that many Cancer-Virgos take. Even considering all this, you never lose yourself while helping others. Your self-awareness is quite strong. You are a potential educator, counselor, physician or clergyperson who uses your compassion, intellect and strength to be of assistance. A number of Cancer-Virgo people are also excellent in the field of business. Your organizational skills are excellent and you are intuitive and clever. A mainstream and organized work environment is best for you since you are careful by nature.
