

Sun in Leo/Moon in Taurus:

Highfalutin

You are theatrical, forceful and purposeful and there is a heaviness to your being. There are a limited number of things you want in life, but they can become powerful in terms of your priorities. You go after power and position primarily for the comfort and lavishness they provide because you are sensual and worldly. You are somewhat of an egoist as are most Leos. You try hard to accomplish your dreams and goals with confidence in your strengths and intuition. You are extremely motivated and this goes with the fact that you have two fixed signs. That results in a strong resolve to achieve the high goals you have set for yourself. You can, however, thwart yourself in spite of your commendable qualities. You are very serious about yourself and your actions. You are also headstrong, obstinate, brave, and resolute. You tend to have a lot of common sense and wisdom. Most of the time, you are calm, composed, and understanding. But you can be just the reverse. You will be unpredictable, morose, difficult and even oppressive if you are in a demanding situation or things are just not the way you want them. Impudence and inflexibility often hinder your judgment and cause you to unconsciously chip away at your own efforts. It is not simple for you to admit defeat and not having things your way can bring about states of depression, and fits of temper. You might also take out your fury on those around you. An extraordinary sense of pride and powerful ego bring this about. Success is not continuous for anyone unless they are very fortunate. Everyone must learn to handle dissatisfaction at times. Remove yourself a little more from your actions. Eventually, inner peace and contentment can only come from within, so the next time you feel let down or irritated, do not take it so seriously. Look from a distance instead. Your vision is far reaching and you are practical. Furthermore you have a wide and sweeping vision, but the total faith you have in yourself often causes you to reject or ignore the opinions of other people. You have often ignored what others have said only to find out your blunder later on. Only after you have learned to work together with people are you capable of incredible creativity. Open your mind to some advice since you cannot be correct all the time. Learn to value and accept other points of view and lighten up in your confidence. Perhaps you were born to lead, but the finest leaders know full well to cooperate now and then.
