Practical Experience

You have a worldly mental framework that is filled with wisdom and experience. This means that others frequently want you to advise them because you are so good at it. Unfailingly, your counsel is logical and thought out well. It is based on logical principles combined with pragmatism. You have an acute method of thinking that can analyze and penetrate to the core of issues. You can readily put your plans into action because you are a perfectionist who insists on preciseness in quality. Taurus-Virgo individuals are superb planners. You are smooth and easy going in all things. You have a character that is even-tempered and self-confident. Your dedication and ability to use the resources at hand mean others admire you and they are drawn to you. The result is that you have a clear path through life stemming from your significant balance of pragmatism and dedication to the tasks you face. Plainly put, you know what you are doing. Wasting your time on fantasies or daydreams is not something you do. Simply contemplating action does not work. You would rather act on your ideas, seeing that as the only way to accomplish your goals. You are a supremely serene person and recognize that life is not always smooth sailing. You ride the waves and never get upset with the routine workings of events. You easily move beyond the few barriers that life puts in your way because you are a determined person with a lot of self-control. Passivity will only lead to lethargy and laziness. Big responsibility and stiff competition are where you are at your very best. Management and administration are quite suited to your character. Verbally, you are well spoken, extremely persuasive and destined to produce results. Organization and long term planning are among your numerous abilities. If there is a weakness in this area, it would be a lack of imagination and creativity. Self-satisfaction is one of the few challenges you will face. Coupled with this is the fact that you might sit by and observe the world and all its problems and be tempted to not use your strength to accomplish what you are capable of. Who you associate with can have an influence on your life choices and that only increases the temptation to be complacent. You need to be alive and active in your surroundings.
