

Sun in Virgo/Moon in Scorpio:

Devious

You are essentially pretty hard-hitting, and you know your mind even though you might seem soft-spoken and mild to others. All your determination and confidence has a price because you are made to keep your emotions in check a lot of the time. You have sharp and often amazingly correct perceptions. Intuition is how you judge others and that method is extremely accurate in your case. You prefer hiding your own being while you are going around judging your friends and co-workers. You possess a quiet intellectual approach to life that hides your true nature. You are mysterious, sensual, very passionate and intense. Most of your decisions are grounded on your hunches and intuition regardless of how calm and logical you try to seem. Favoritism and passion generally are the primary decision makers in your dealing even if reason and logic are in the mix. You know and go after what you want in life. You are determined and a hard worker. Very few actually know whether you are troubled or ecstatic, because your persona almost always remains cool, removed, and unswerving. Not many appreciate your real sensitivity and depth because you are so good at presenting that detached facade. Try to express yourself with more vigor and be more forthright with your emotions. Refrain from being so supremely rational about everything, and let passion take you away from time to time. The Virgo-Scorpio combination is well suited to social service, medicine and government. Business is also a possibility. Romantically, you are jealous and controlling and act as if you possess your partner. This can bring about endless problems. You often point out your lover's failings in a tactless manner, and therefore you may be inadvertently cruel, even with all the perception you have. You can be quite sensual and giving, however, if you are truly in love. You may reason yourself and your real feeling out of existence. Your satisfaction comes through work as with most Virgos. Frequently, it is everything to you and replaces relationships and recreation. Make sure you have some interests outside work not involving what you do nine-to-five if you want to avoid becoming a workaholic. You may have revolutionary concepts and secretly desire to apply change even though you are professionally drawn to the conservative and conventional. You are able to bring modernization and inventiveness to your work.
